SAN JUAN LODGE

An upland hunters mecca, in the gorgeous Uruguayan countryside

San Juan Lodge is perched atop a knoll, with breathtaking views of the Uruguayan countryside. In addition to the fine view, the lodge also finds itself in the perfect mixed-bag location, where you can access water impoundments teeming with ducks, where partridge cover is abundant, plus incredible dove roosts are just a short drive away on good roads.

With seemingly unending pastures and grasslands, this area of Uruguay is considered the perdiz capital of South America, and San Juan's kennel of purpose-bred bird dogs have been trained from birth to pursue these birds. Add to this upland resource, fantastic flights of migratory ducks as well as roosts full of doves, and it is easy to see why the lodge offers an unparalleled Uruguayan mixed-bag hunting experience.

The purpose-built lodge features 5 well-appointed twin rooms with private en-suite baths and can host a maximum of 10 hunters. Further delights include genteel country living, warm personalized service, and delightful culinary experiences.

THE HUNTING

The program at San Juan Lodge offers a diverse mixed bag hunt, with a focus on the hard flying, upland Perdiz. Typically, you will be hunting multiple species almost every day of your stay. Most days feature hunts for two species, with mornings dedicated to perdiz over well-trained pointing dogs, or decoying ducks from dry-land blinds on ponds and lagoons.

The characteristics of the land allow us to have a permanent roost right on the property, though there are many different roosts located a short drive from the lodge that offer wonderful shooting as well. The proximity of important rivers and streams also provides the ideal habitat for hunting ducks, both resident and migratory species.

Perdiz hunts in Uruguay are typically two to three-hour hunts through short cover and on flat or gently rolling ground. Hunters will go to the field in pairs and you will be joined by a guide/dog handler. You will walk up the birds, following the dogs until they make game, and then walk to the point for the flush of the partridge. After one field has been covered, you typically make a very short drive to another and will repeat the process with a fresh dog until the perdiz limit has been bagged.

Morning duck hunts will find you hunting from dry-land blinds, strategically located on ponds, before dawn. Your guide will get you set in the blind, layout the decoy spread, and identify birds as they approach. You'll see a variety of species, including Yellow-billed Pintail, Speckled Teal, and the sought-after Rosy-billed Pochard, to name a few.

Our afternoon dove shoots will take place in some of the largest roosts in all of Uruguay, there will be ample opportunities for hot-barrel shooting. One of the dove roosts is located right next to the lodge, and then two others are only 30' away, so drives will vary depending on the hunting location. Your field assistant will be at your side throughout the shoot, providing you with cartridges, refreshments as needed, and keeping an eye out for birds.

Lodge host and co-owner, Bernardo Barran, has spent over 25 years breeding and training English setters & pointers, focused solely on the pursuit of perdiz.

DAILY ITINERARY

Mornings will begin with a wake-up call, approximately an hour before departure time. Breakfast will be served shortly thereafter, with everything from waffles to Eggs Benedict, all made to order.

For Duck Hunts, you will depart the lodge well before sunrise. Drives vary depending upon water conditions and location but range from ten to forty-five minutes. Shooting over decoys starts at first light and continues until 10 am or after. For Perdiz Hunts, you will depart the lodge after sunrise, and hunt until your limits have been reached. You will return to the lodge for lunch, and some time to relax, or enjoy a siesta. Hunters will again depart for their afternoon hunt around 2 to 3pm.

Evening hunts last until 5 to 5:30pm, after which you will return to the lodge, where you will be met with cocktails and appetizers as well as a delicious dinner.
